MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION.

THE departments of instruction connected with this institution are three,—the Law School, the College Proper, and the Grammar School, or Preparatory Department. Information respecting each of them may be found under its appropriate head.

COLLEGE PROPER.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class, must be well acquainted with Arithmetic, on the inductive system, (Emerson's,) English Grammar; Geography; Ancient and Modern History; Latin Grammar, (Adam's by Gould;) Latin Reader; Leverett's Latin Tutor; Cæsar's Commentaries; Virgil; Cicero's Select Orations; Dillaway's Roman Antiquities and Mythology; Greek Grammar, (Fisk's;) Jacob's Greek Reader, and the Historical Books of the New Testament.

They must be at least fourteen years of age, and must produce certificates of good moral character.

Candidates for an advanced standing, will be examined on the studies to which the class they propose entering have attended; and, if from other Colleges, must produce certificates of honorable dismissal. Applicants may present themselves for examination at the commencement or close of each session.

Note—The modern languages may be studied during the Junior and Senior years, at the discretion of the Student.

The course of study, and the plan of instruction, are substantially the same with those of the oldest Colleges in our country, nor is it designed materially to depart from principles which time has established, and whose wisdom, long experience has confirmed. While, however, the spirit of innovation will be carefully guarded against, novelty alone will not constitute a sufficient objection to any thing which may commend itself, as a decided improvement, either in the subjects, or in the mode of education.

The studies of all the departments are pursued by means of recitations, accompanied with lectures on such subjects as will admit of them. In connection with the respective languages, which are taught, the nature of language in general, and of Universal or Philosophical Grammar, will be studied. Instruction in the Natural Sciences will be accompanied by illustrations and experiments, for which a valuable philosophical and chemical apparatus, and an excellent laboratory, afford every facility. While it is designed, in no respect to lower the standard of Classical and Mathematical education, beneath the sufficiently humble position which it now occupies in our highest colleges, the studies more immediately connected with the business of life, and the intercourse of society, will constitute a prominent and efficient department.

As it is conceived, however, that after all, the grand design of education is to excite, rather than to pretend to satisfy, an ardent thirst for information; and to enlarge the capacity of the mind, rather than to store it with knowledge, however useful; the whole system of instruction is made subservient to this leading object.

ANNUAL EXPENSES.

The college bills are to be paid to the Treasurer in advance, per session; and are as follows, viz:

FIRST SESSION.		SECOND SESSION.
Tuition fee,	$18 00	Tuition fee,	$12 00
Room rent,*	3 00	Room rent,*	2 00
Steward's services,	3 00	Steward's services,	2 00
Warming and use of reci- tation rooms,	2 00	Use of recitation rooms,	1 00
Printing,	75	Printing,	25

	$26 75		$17 25

BOARD.—In consequence of the dissatisfaction usually attendant upon College commons, this feature has been excluded from our system. It is conceived that greater advantages are afforded by a boarding establishment, which is kept within the College edifice on the personal responsibility of the Steward, and with which the student may connect himself, at his own option, or that of his parent. All the instructors of the Institution, who have not families, board at this table, and it is at all times subject to such regulations as the Faculty may prescribe. It is strongly recommended, therefore, that every student should board in the College Hall, and, if such be the wish of his parent or guardian, he shall be required to do so. The price of board is $1 50† per week, to be paid in advance.

Students not resident in town are required to lodge in the College

*The room rent in the East College, below the attic, will be for the first session $6 00, and for the second $3 00.

†This advance in the price of board is not greater than was demanded by the increase in the price of provisions. The subject, however, is under the control of the Faculty, and the terms of board will be reduced as soon as a change in the market will justify it.

edifice. It would be well, therefore, as they have to provide their own furniture, that each should bring with him, a single bed, bedding, towels, &c. Heavy furniture, such as bedstead, table and chairs, can be better procured in the town. The original cost of them is but small, and they may afterward be sold at a trifling sacrifice.

The expense of fuel and lights will be in proportion to the quantity consumed, say $10 per annum. Washing, $1 per month, or 30 cents per dozen pieces.

The necessary expenses therefore for a collegiate year, may be estimated as follows, viz:

College fees,	- - - - -	$44 00
Board,	- - - - -	63 00
Fuel and Lights,	- - - - -	10 00
Washing,	- - - - -	10 00

		$127 00

MANAGEMENT OF FUNDS.—It is required that every student, whose parent or guardian does not reside in Carlisle, should have a patron or college guardian, who shall manage his financial affairs, and have a general superintendence of his interests. Any of the instructors of the College or Grammar School, or any citizen of Carlisle, is authorized to act in this capacity, and to receive for his services a commission of three per cent.; or, a student who is of age, may, at the discretion of the Faculty, manage his own funds. It is earnestly desired that parents and guardians will signify to the student's patron, what expenses may be incurred besides the necessary bills above named, and also what sum may be allowed as pocket money. It cannot be expected that the expenditures of students will be restrained within proper bounds, unless those most interested will co-operate in rendering this system effective. The authorities of the College, sensible that it is necessary to the moral and literary character of the student, as well as to the discipline of the Institution, are determined rigidly to enforce its observance; and it must be distinctly understood that no student, who shall receive money, for any purpose whatsoever, except through the hands of his patron, can be permitted to remain in the Institution. To the patron, therefore, should all communications respecting a student's finances be made, and to him should all funds be forwarded, either in cash, or, what is better, by draft or check, upon Baltimore, Philadelphia, or New York, payable to his order.

TERMS, EXAMINATIONS, AND VACATIONS.

The Collegiate year is divided into two sessions.

The first beginning on the 15th of September, and ending on the Friday before the 1st of April.

The second, beginning two weeks after the termination of the first, and ending at Commencement, on the third Thursday in July.

At the close of each session there is a public examination of all the classes.

The periods intervening between the sessions, are the regular vacations.

LIBRARIES.

The College Library contains about 3,000 volumes; the Belles-Lettres about 3,000 vols. the Union Philosophical about 2,500 vols.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

The students are required to attend Church twice on the Sabbath. In the morning, at such place, always, as their parents or guardians may designate in writing.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

This department is under the immediate care of the Hon. Judge Reed.

Stated recitations and examinations, accompanied with familiar instructions, occur three times in every week.

Discussions in the Moot Court are had once a week, when occasion is taken to deliver a lecture upon the subject discussed.

The Law School, is distinct from College regulations. Students are prepared thoroughly for admission to the Bar. The period of study, is regulated, as in ordinary cases, by the rules of Court. The time now prescribed, is two years for a graduate of any respectable College, or one over the age of twenty-one years; and three years for one who is not a graduate of College, and who is under the age of twenty-one.

Upon a final and satisfactory examination, the degree of "Bachelor of Laws" will be conferred by the Faculty.

A course of Collegiate lectures will be delivered to the students in College, when the condition of the classes shall require it. Attendance upon them to be optional with the student.

The price of Tuition in the Law Department, embracing all charges, is seventy-five dollars per annum.

For membership in the Moot Court, to such as are not members of the Law School, fifteen dollars per annum.

Collegiate Lectures, fifteen dollars per session; for a second course, half that sum.

The use of the Library, text books, stationery, office rooms and fuel, furnished to students of the Law School without additional charge.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

This department is designed to prepare students for admission to the Freshman Class in college; the course of study is therefore that which has already been pointed out as required for admission. (See terms of admission.) Those however who do not contemplate a full collegiate course, may pursue the ordinary English and Mathematical studies, in the Grammar School, and the higher branches, with the college classes.—The school, at present, embraces pupils of every age from ten to twenty-seven.

The school is under the general supervision of the President of the College; but its immediate government and direction are vested in the Principal, aided by three assistants. The classical department is conducted entirely by the Principal and first Assistant; the English department is under the immediate direction of the other Assistants.

Writing classes have been formed, embracing every pupil in the school; and daily exercises in Penmanship are performed under the immediate supervision of the Instructors. Such statutes of the College as regard the morals, manners, and conduct of the students, are binding upon the pupils of the Grammar School.

There are two sessions of the school in the year, each followed by a vacation. The first commencing on the first of September, and ending on the Friday before the first of April. The second, commencing two weeks after the termination of the first, and ending on the third Thursday of July.

EXPENSES—The tuition fees (to be paid in advance per session) are as follows: For first session, $15 00; for second session, $9 00; printing circulars, monthly reports, &c. for the year, $1 00

A large and commodious building has been procured for the use of the Grammar School; and arrangements have been made by which pupils may be boarded and lodged, under the constant supervision of their instructors. Every thing necessary for their comfortable accommodation (board, lodging, washing, fuel, light, and steward's services) is furnished to them on the following terms:—For first session, $66 00; for second session, $30 00;—to be paid in advance each session; bed and bedding to be found by the pupil. In case of sickness, pupils lodging in the Grammar School, will be removed to the adjoining house of one of the teachers, (Mr. Hey,) where every attention will be paid to them;—the extra expense to be charged to their account. The necessary expenses of the school may therefore be estimated as follows, viz:

Tuition fees,	- - - - -	$24 00
Board, &c.	- - - - -	96 00
Printing,	- - - - -	1 00
<hr/>
		$121 00

The Government of the Institution is strictly parental. It is designed to secure attention to study, and correctness of deportment, not so much by the enforcement of rigid enactments, as by cultivating, in the student, a taste for intellectual pursuits, and virtuous habits. But while youthful indiscretion will be treated with lenity, it is resolved that incurable indolence, bad morals, and pecuniary extravagance, shall not be suffered to remain to exert their corrupting influence within our walls.

A weekly record is kept of the standing of each student, and at the end of every month, a report is sent to his parent or guardian, containing an account of his literary standing, and general deportment.

For the accommodation of those who may wish to take a partial course, it is provided, that upon payment of the college fees, they may pursue the studies of any of the departments, with the regular college classes. Such irregular students, however, must have at least three recitations a day, and do not participate in the honors of college. Indeed this partial course is so diametrically opposed to the great ends of education, that it is earnestly recommended that it should never be adopted, except where embarrassed circumstances, or advanced age, may render it necessary.

For the benefit of indigent students, it has been provided, that in cases where the Faculty are satisfied that a student of approved character is unable to pay his tuition money, they may take his note or bond for it, which shall not bear interest until two years after his leaving college, and shall never be put in suit.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION.

Collegiate Department.

CANDIDATES for admission into the Freshman Class must be well acquainted with Arithmetic; Geography; Simple Equations in Algebra; Outlines of Ancient and Modern History; the English, Latin and Greek Grammars (McClintock and Crook's First Books in Latin and Greek); Cæsar's Commentaries (two books); Virgil's Æneid (four books); Xenophon's Anabasis (two books); Roman Antiquities and Mythology; Greek Reader.

Candidates for any other class will be examined on the studies previously pursued by such class. Candidates for the Partial Course will be examined only as to their qualifications to pursue that course.

It is recommended, however, that all whose circumstances will justify it, should prosecute the full Collegiate Course. This Course long experience has proved to be best suited to accomplish the great end of education—the development and discipline of the mind.

The completeness of a student's preparation for admission will materially affect the whole of his subsequent course, as many of the elementary studies cannot receive that attention in College which their importance demands. It is earnestly desired, therefore, that candidates adhere rigidly to the course of Preparatory Studies, and that they endeavor to perfect themselves in these rather than anticipate studies which can be pursued to much greater advantage in College. It is, in general, poor economy to attempt to prepare for admission into one of the higher classes; as it is reasonable to suppose that, with the facilities afforded at College, students will be advanced there more rapidly and thoroughly than they could be by teachers less favorably situated. The Grammar School of the Institution presents peculiar advantages to those who wish to be thoroughly prepared for admission.

No one will be admitted to the Freshman Class until he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to a higher class without a corresponding age. And it is desirable that the candidates should be still older, that thus they may be fitted, by greater maturity of mind and stability of character, the better to appreciate their studies, and to exercise that self-control which is necessary for the student.

Candidates for admission must produce testimonials of good moral character; if from another College, a certificate of honorable dismission. They may present themselves for examination at any time; but at the commencement of a session, or during the week after Christmas, is preferred.

Tuition is given to such as desire it in the Spanish, Italian and Hebrew Languages, for which an extra charge is made. The following is the course of study.

Spanish—Velasquez's Spanish Grammar; Velasquez's Spanish Dictionary; Lectures on Spanish Literature.

Italian—Forresti's Italian Grammar; Forresti's Italian Reader; Torquato Tasso; Meadow's Italian Dictionary; Lectures on Italian Literature.

Hebrew—Roediger's Gesenius' Grammar, by Conant; Hahn's Biblia Hebraica; Gesenius' Lexicon.

The instruction in PHILOSOPHY and ENGLISH LITERATURE is given partly by recitations in History, Rhetoric, Logic, Political Economy, Metaphysics, and Constitutional Law, and partly by Lectures on the English Language and Literature, the Philosophy of History and Polity, and the History of Philosophy. Practical exercises in writing and speaking also receive special attention in this department.

The course in the NATURAL SCIENCES includes recitations from text books, and lectures accompanied by illustrations and experiments. The facilities of this department for full and efficient instruction are unusually ample. The apparatus is extensive and valuable, and annually increasing. The Cabinet of Natural History is abundantly supplied with specimens illustrative of the various productions of the globe.

In the MATHEMATICAL department there are daily recitations. In the senior year lectures are given on the theories and applications of the Higher Branches.

In the CLASSICAL DEPARTMENT, it frequently happens, that either different authors, or different portions of the same author, are read by successive classes ; but these alterations do not affect the amount of Greek and Latin required of those who apply for admission to the higher classes. The books of reference employed throughout the course are Anthon's Classical Dictionary, Zumpt's Latin Grammar Kuehner's or Buttman's Greek Grammar, Ramshorn's Latin Synonymes, Eschenberg's Manual of Classical Literature, Andrew's Latin Lexicon, and Liddell and Scott's Greek Lexicon.

In the department of MODERN LANGUAGES it is the aim of the Professor, so far as practicable, to carry on conversation with the class in the language studied. The books of reference recommended are Surrenne's French Pronouncing Dictionary, Abrege du Dictionnaire de l'Academie Francaise, Heyse's German Grammar, Adler's German Dictionary.

Where the subjects are susceptible of it, the students are required to make an analysis (generally in writing) of the works which they study, and to give at their daily recitations, as well as at the public examinations, a connected view of the subject, in their own language and without the aid of the instructor, except on points not fully treated by the author; thus cultivating the powers of memory, thought and speech.

Public examinations of all the classes are held at the close of each session. Students who have not made satisfactory proficiency are then required to make up deficiencies by extra study during vacation, or prevented from advancing with their class. The Seniors are examined four weeks before Commencement, on the entire College course.

JOHN GRIGG MEDALS.

By the liberality of John Grigg, Esq., of Philadelphia, the College has been furnished with a Fund to be appropriated as Prizes for Oratory. This will be given in the form of a Gold and a Silver Medal, as first and second Prizes, to such members of the Junior Class as may excel in Declamation and Composition. The award to be made by a Committee after a Public Contest.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The College Year is divided into two Sessions, the first beginning on the second Thursday of September, and ending on the Wednesday preceding Christmas: the second beginning four weeks from the termination of the first, and ending at Commencement, on the second Thursday in July.

VACATIONS from Commencement, to the second Thursday of September. From the Wednesday before Christmas, four weeks.

COLLEGE BILLS.

	FIRST SESSION.	SECOND SESSION.
Tuition Fee, - - - -	$13 00	$20 00
Fee for use of Library, - - -	50	1 00
Fee for warming and use of Recitation Rooms, - - -	1 50	2 50
Janitor's services, - - -	1 00	2 00

A charge of $3 00 a year extra is made on all the students for Modern Languages. Thus, for $12 00, the student has the advantage of four years' instruction in the French and German Languages,—affording him a rare opportunity for proficiency in these studies, and at a price unusually low.

Students lodging in College pay for room rent from $2 67 to $3 33 for the first session, and from 5 33 to $6 67 for the second. Those who do not employ the Janitor pay FIFTY CENTS per session for keeping the halls in order.

These bills are paid to the Treasurer in advance each session.

RESIDENCE, BOARD, &c.

Students not resident in town are required to lodge in the College, and furnish their own Rooms. All necessary furniture can be purchased here at lower prices than abroad. When the student leaves, it may be sold for what it is worth.

No Boarding Department is kept in the College. Students board at such private boarding houses in town as are approved of by the Faculty. The price of board varies from $2 25 to $2 50. If Students prefer to board themselves, the expense may be greatly reduced.

Oak wood can be had for $3 00 per cord, and hickory for $4 00. Coal delivered at the College is $5 00 per ton. Washing is $1 50 per month, or 37½ cents per dozen.

SUMMARY OF ANNUAL EXPENSES.

As the College tuition is now for the most part paid by Scholarships, the necessary expenses for a year will vary from $126,00 to $144,00.

In the above summary no estimate is made for Text Books, Clothes, Travelling Expenses and Incidentals. These of course will vary according to the habits and circumstances of the student.

MANAGEMENT OF FUNDS.

As economy is essential to the moral and literary character, both of the Institution and its members, the greatest care will be taken to restrict the expenditures of students. The method adopted for this purpose is presented in the following paragraph, to which the attention of parents and guardians is invited.

All students (except those who reside in town, and at the discretion of the faculty, those who are of age,) are required to have a Patron, to take charge of their funds and disburse the same. The Statutes of the College require him to be selected from among the Faculty, and allow him to charge for his services a commission of three per cent. on all disbursements. As the success of this system depends mainly on the co-operation of the parents and guardians, they are earnestly requested to signify to the Patron, at the beginning of each session, whether their sons or wards are to be allowed to incur any other than the necessary expenses stated above, and if so, for what articles and to what amount ;—that they will inspect minutely the Monthly Account of disbursements sent to them, and communicate promptly to the Patron any objection they may have against them ; and especially that they will forward all funds directly to the Patron, as a student who receives money from any other source than from his Patron, or who fails in case he does so receive, immediately to deliver it to his Patron, is regarded as guilty of a high offence. Remittances should be made either in cash, or by draft or check upon Baltimore, Philadelphia or New York, payable to the Patron's order.

The faithful observance of this system may not in every instance, secure all the economy desired, but it will doubtless be more successful than the ordinary method of allowing the students the uncontrolled use of money.

ASTRONOMICAL OBSERVATORY.

The facilities of the College for instruction in the department of Astronomy have recently been greatly increased by the erection of an Astronomical Observatory and the purchase of an Achromatic Telescope manufactured by Henry Fitz of New York. The Telescope has an object glass of 5 inches with a focal distance of 7 feet, is Equatorially Mounted, and furnished with Right Ascension and Declination Circles and Clock work; and is adapted to Scientific research, as well as instruction. To this will soon be added a superior Transit now in process of manufacture.

LIBRARIES.

The College Library contains	6,438 volumes.
The Belles Lettres "	7,137 "
The Union Philosophical "	7,563 "
	21,138

These are accessible to all the students.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

Prayers with reading of the Scriptures, are attended in the Chapel in the morning and evening of every day, except Saturday and Sunday, when the evening service is omitted. The students are also required to attend public worship twice on the Sabbath, at such church as their parents or guardians may designate.

DEGREES.

All Graduates of three years' standing, or more, who have in the mean time sustained a good moral character, are candidates, in course, for the degree of A. M. As this Degree is not conferred except on application, such applications should be made to the President, accompanied by the usual fee, ($5,00,) at least one week before the Commencement.

PARTIAL COURSE.

Those who do not wish to pursue the full course of College Study can pursue an English and Scientific Course, embracing for the first year, the studies of the Preparatory Department, except the Latin and Greek languages; the second those of the Freshman and Sophomore years, with the same exception; the third, those of the Junior and Senior years, except the Latin and Greek Languages and Mathematics.

Grammar School.

This department is designed to prepare students for College, and the studies are arranged with general though not exclusive, reference to that end. The expenses in this Department are the same as in College, except that the Scholarships are not available for the Grammar School. The Terms and Vacations are also the same.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The government of the Institution is mild and parental. It is designed to secure attention to study and correctness of deportment, not so much by the enforcement of rigid rules, as by cultivating in the student a taste for intellectual pursuits and virtuous habits. But while youthful indiscretion will be treated with lenity, Incurable Indolence, Bad Morals, and Peeuniary Extravagance will not be suffered to remain to exert their corrupting influences within our walls.

A faithful record is kept of the standing and deportment of each student, and a report sent monthly to his parent or guardian.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the necessary Text Books and Stationery are supplied at the College at a cost below the city retail prices.
